CITIES LAW TO DEMAND VACCINATION IS UPHELD

Supreme Court Hands Down Decision Declaring Validity Child Vaccination Law

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13—The supreme Court today upheld the validity of the legislation in city ordinances which compel the vaccination of children against disease as an entrance requirement to school.

The decision was handed down following the appeal to the Supreme Court of the case of Rosalyn Zucht, high school girl of San Antonio, Tex., who had sued the health authorities of that city for damages because they had barred her from school following her refusal to secure a doctor's certificate of vaccination.

The challenge of the validity of the law was made in court and the lower decision appealed.

The Supreme Court decision on this matter has been deemed of great importance to thousands of cities, since her claim was denied and the ordinance declared legal, for most cities have such a law.

LEE IS ELECTED SCHOOL HEAD

IS LEADING SAM A. BAKER BY 3257 VOTES

REED'S LEAD NOW 35,362

Judge Walker Led the Democratic Ticket, Being Over 5,000 Ahead Of Ragland

Charles A. Lee, superintendent of the public schools at Butler, Bates County, was elected State Superintendent of Public Schools over State Superintendent Sam A. Baker, Republican, who was a candidate for re-election.

With but thirty-seven small rural precincts out Lee was leading Baker upon the face of the unofficial returns by 3257 votes. It is unlikely that the missing precincts will change the results.

The late returns favored Lee. Callaway County dumped in 3100 for Lee and Monroe County gave him a long lead over Baker. Linn County reporting, gave 600 for Baker, and he had accessions from other sections, but not enough to offset the big gains for Lee upon the late returns.

This race was one of the surprises of the election. Baker outdistanced his associates on the Republican state ticket by many thousands.

The vote with thirty-seven precincts missing, according to the Associated Press tabulation, stood: Baker, 469,481; Lee, 472,738.

With only ninety-three small rural precincts missing Senator Reed's plurality over R. R. Brewster again passed the 35,000 mark. The vote now stands: Reed, 483,435; Brewster, 448,073. Reed's plurality, 35,362.

Judge R. F. Walker, Democrat, led the Democratic Supreme Judge ticket with 452,598 votes, being over 5000 ahead of W. T. Ragland and 7,000 ahead of John T. White, his Democratic associates.

With seventy-three missing precincts, which will not materially change the result, Ragland defeated Elder by 35,306 votes. White led Judge Edward Higbee, Republican, by 23,163. Walker led Francis Hayward, Republican, by 55,702.

The vote with seventy-three precincts out stands: Elder 412,103; Ragland 447,409; White, 445,361; Higbee, 422,198; Walker 452,598; Hayward, 396,896.

It now seems definitely established that the Republicans have lost the House of the Missouri General Assembly, as well as the State Senate. They lost five of the nineteen in St. Louis, three in Greene, three in Jasper, one in St. Louis County, and one each in Adair, Wright, Laclede and Dent counties. This makes a net loss in normally Republican districts of sixteen members. They elected three of the ten in Jackson County, which usually sends a solidly Democratic delegation, and one of three in Buchanan County.

Democrats are likely to have eighty or more members of the House. Seventy-six is a constitutional majority.

If the Democrats control the House H. O. Maxey of Bates County and Oak Hunter of Randolph County are likely to be contestants for the speakership. Both have been pledging probable members since before the election.

Incomplete returns obtained by the Associated Press from probably forty counties in Missouri indicate the decisive defeat of every proposition on the constitutional ballot except No. 2, the women's amendment, and No. 3, the road amendment.

Proposition No. 2 proposed to strike from the state constitution the word "male" to bring the Missouri constitution into consonance with the federal constitution in regard to suffrage. No. 3 provides for the maintenance of the state system of roads

CORN YEILD HERE WAS 44 BUSHELS

WITH 95 PER CENT OF THE CROP MERCHANTABLE.

AVERAGE PRICES 52 CTS.

State Yield Was 29 Bushels Per Acre or 171,477,000 Bushels, According to Report.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 13—Corn gathering in Nodaway County indicates an average yield of 44 bushels, with 95 per cent of the crop merchantable. Of the 1921 crop only 7 per cent remains on farms. The average county price of new corn is 52 cents. Farmers are harvesting this year 87 per cent of their corn for gain, 7 per cent "hogged off" and 6 per cent went into silos, and cut 14 per cent for fodder.

Missouri corn gathered to date indicates an average yield of 29 bus. per acre, or 171,477,000 bushels, according to E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes of the Federal State Crop Reporting Service. The yield in 1921 was 182,880,000 bushels, of which 6% or 11,937,000 bushels remains on farms.

Missouri farmers report corn husking out 29 bushels per acre upon 5,913,000 acres producing 171,477,000 bushels, against 30 bushels totaling 182,880,000 last year. The five year average is 176,224,000.

The yields are satisfactory throughout the northern third, but on the east side are poor, having been reduced by chinch bugs and extreme drouth. The crop is very short throughout most of the southern counties. Southeast Missouri has a fairly good corn crop.

E. E. Carver of Guilford, Nodaway County, says "Corn husking is progressing, yield fully up to all expectations, but has been too warm for husking."

The portion of crop merchantable is 84%, or 4 points above last year, although there is chaffy corn due to chinch bugs and premature ripening with shriveling of grain. Cribbing is under way throughout the state. Less corn is on hands than last year, as it was fed liberally to hogs in the summer months throughout the surplus counties, and in the deficient localities last year's supply has been used up on account of the general feed shortage.

The price of new corn is not stabilized, but averages 61 cents per bushel ranging from 55 cents in the good crop counties to 93 cents in Ozark County. The corn put into silos shows no increase above last year, as labor was high in many sections and forage plentiful. Corn was cut for fodder more than usual in the drouth stricken counties.

OVER 1,000 DEAD IN EARTHQUAKE

DISASTER HITS PACIFIC COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA.

MAY CALL RED CROSS

Dead are Buried Without Identification—Submerged Volcano in Pacific Caused Eruption.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 13.—Between 1,000 and 2,000 are dead or fatally injured in the huge tidal wave and earthquake which struck the western coast of Chile and South America Saturday.

Thousands of homes in the district along the coast are inundated, leaving the owners homeless. Communications is still cut off from most of the regions and it is impossible to get much information as to the number of dead and injured and the extent of the damaged territory.

The government is concentrating all efforts for getting relief to the devasted regions. Authorities are contemplating asking for outside aid and the American Red Cross will probably be called upon.

Reports coming from the terror stricken areas say that corpses are being buried as soon as they are found without awaiting the formality of identification.

The violent effects of the tidal wave were felt from Antofagasta on the north to Valdivia on the south, covering a distance on the seashore of over 1,200 miles. Wireless reports today say that some of the fishing villages along the coast have entirely disappeared.

Both the earthquake and tidal wave were said to have been caused by the eruption of an ancient volcano at the bottom of the Pacific.

SAFETY GIVES THE BEARCATS VICTORY

WARRENSBURG DEFEATED BY 8 TO 6 FINAL SCORE

MILLER PUNTS 62 YDS.

His First Appearance in Line-up Since Kirksville Game—Muddy Field For Entire Game

The State Teachers College football team added another scalp to it's string Saturday when it won an Armistice Day game from the Warrensburg Bears on the local field. The score was 8 to 6. It was a hard fought game, played on a slippery field and in the rain. The visitors counted first when Captain Peters completed a twenty yard forward flip for a touchdown. The try for point after the touchdown failed. This touchdown came in the first period. When the quarter ended Warrensburg still held the lead.

There were three features to the second quarter. The first was a forty-five yard run by quarterback Beck of Maryville. This run was made after catching a punt.

The second came when Leech, halfback, skirted left end for thirty yards and the third came when Lon Wilson, the other Bearcat halfback, crossed the goal line for the first Maryville counter.

The ball was on the Warrensburg ten yard line. A spread formation was called and Wilson, cutting back of his interferance, carried the ball over. He was tackled three yards from the line but he kept right on going and when he fell he was more than a foot over the goal line. The try for point failed.

In the third quarter Maryville came back strong. The Bears were gradually forced back and several exchanges of punts were had. When the period was a little more than half over the ball was on the Warrensburg forty yard line. An end run lost five yards. Then punt formation was called. The ball was snapped, the kicker kicked. But Leston Webb, Bearcat left end, was on the job. He was right on the man when the ball was kicked and blocked it. However Warrensburg recovered. A kick formation was called, again Webb blocked the kick, and Warrensburg recovered. The ball was on the one yard line. For the third time the punter for the Bears dropped back. And for the third time Webb went in and blocked the kick. Again Warrensburg recovered the ball but this time it was behind the goal line. A safety for the Bearcats. This provided the winning points.

The fourth quarter was played in almost darkness. It was hard for the men to follow the ball. Several times punts were run back thirty and forty yards simply because the ball couldn't be seen. As one player expressed it, "The only way you could tell what side a player was on, was by the direction he was running."

A fake play would doubtless have worked to perfection at this time. Neither side tried to use one.

At this juncture of the game Coach Maynor decided that the Bearcats would kick on first down whenever they had possession of the ball. He sent Earl Miller in for Leech. This was Millers first appearance since the Kirksville game in which he suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was sent in to kick and oh how he kicked. The first two punts averaged only about forty yards but the third one. Well, the ball was on the thirty-five yard line and Miller stood on the twenty-five yard line.

The ball was passed. It was slippery as could be. The Warrensburg ends were coming in fast. So was the line. Miller caught the ball, took one step and booted it. It was a perfect spiral. As near as could be measured

JAPS CANNOT BECOME CITIZENS

SUPREME COURT RULES INELIGIBILITY TO NATURALIZATION.

DECISION IS IMPORTANT

Pacific Coast Especially Effected by Decision—Owning of Real Estate Don't Help.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Japanese are not of the "white" race and under the present federal law are not entitled to citizenship in the United States, was a decision handed down today by the United States Supreme Court.

This decision was delivered by Associate Justice Sutherland, his first opportunity since he became a member of the court.

The decision held that the federal statutes limiting citizenship to members of the Caucasian race or Africans descendants had not been repealed or modified by subsequent legislation and that the Japanese were not under this law entitled to naturalization for citizenship.

Another decision was made today that upheld the decision of the courts of the State of Washington that Japanese holding real estate were not entitled to citizenship.

These decisions as to "color" came following the cases of Takoa Ozawa of Honolulu and Yamashita of Washington state. The cases have attracted much attention and are of significant importance on the Pacific Coast.

A new grass, which gives golf balls a better bounce, is developed from "creeping bent" grass. The development is the work of Uncle Sam's Bureau of Plant Industry.

This interests at least 10,000 times as many as care to hear about the discovery of a new star. Don't "pan" the human brain. We can't use stars but we can use golf grass.

LEE IS ELECTED SCHOOL HEAD

from the surplus in the state automobile license fund after interest and principal requirements on the $60,000,000 of bonds are met.

The defeated propositions included Gov. Hyde's laws consolidating the numerous departments. The budget law, which advocated by both political parties in their platform of 1920, was also killed. The county unit educational law, which was regarded by educators as the most progressive school measure enacted in Missouri in twenty years, was also slaughtered in rural Missouri, where it was intended to benefit the schools. It was not applicable to city schools. The workmen's compensation law, passed by the Legislature, also was defeated, as were congressional and senatorial redistricting.

The probable election of a Legislature Democratic in both branches will halt Governor Hyde's midterm legislative program. Democrats are likely to block any administration measure proposed.

Hyde will make no attempt, it is believed, to pass another county unit law at the coming session to take the place of the one submitted to referendum and defeated at the recent election. He said he would make a fight to encourage consolidation of school districts and approach the county unit plan from that angle.

C. C. EVANS FUNERAL IS HELD AT PARNELL TODAY

He was 83 Years Old and Lived in County 50 Years—Burial at Parnell

The funeral services of Cassius C. Evans, who died Saturday, were held this afternoon at his home in Parnell. Burial was in the Rose Hill cemetery of Parnell.

Mr. Evans was one of the pioneer residents of Nodaway County. He was eighty-three years old and had lived in the county for over fifty years. He is survived by his wife and ten children, who are: William E. Evans, living in Idaho; George L. Evans, Denver, Colo., formerly sheriff of Nodaway County for two terms; James W. Evans, Sheridan, Mo.; Arch Evans, an attorney at St. Joseph; Newton Evans, Idaho; Chas. Evans, auctioneer, Parnell; Dick Evans, North Platte, Neb.; Port Evans, Parnell; Homer Evans, Washington and Mrs. Celeste Conrad, Parnell.

RAIN BRINGS UP RIVER— IS RECEDING SOME TODAY.

The rains of the last two days have caused the One Hundred and Two river to rise nearly bank full. It looked last night as though it would go out of its banks if it rose higher.

Today the water company reports that it has fallen about five feet.

PICKERING FATHER'S AND SON'S BANQUET FRIDAY.

Many a man remembers the day of the bicycle scorchers when they arrested them for going a lot slower than the modern auto is permitted to travel through the streets.

it was a sixty-two yard punt.

After that kick the ball was in Warrensburg territory for the rest of the period.

A good crowd witnessed the game despite the rain. On the side of the field opposite the bleachers the whole field was lined with automobiles.

None of the Maryville men were injured. Several of the visitors were taken from the game with injuries; one man, a guard, with a fractured collar bone. The Warrensburg quarterback played almost all the game with a jaw-bone which was no completely healed from two fractures.

The Bears returned yesterday morning on the 7:52 o'clock Burlington train.

Only two more games remain on the Bearcat schedule. A week from today Tarkio, the ancient rival of the Teachers, will enter the Bearcats lair for the annual game and from the dope it looks like the Tarks will go back a beaten team.

Two years ago Tarkio won a hard fought game. Last year they won an easier game but this year, it may be a different story.

The season will close at Fulton where the Bearcats will play Westminster on November 25. They are doped to win this game too. The Warrensburg team took the Blue Jays to measure and the Bearcats will more than likely do the same.

With these games won it will make the percentage of the locals 572.

GIRLS OF OLD WERE JUST AS BAD, SAYS AUTHORITY.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—It is the observation of Mrs. J. Scott Parrish of Richmond, Va., and president of the city's Y. W. C. A., that the girl of a score of years ago got just as much pleasure out of exceeding the social speed limit as does the girl of today, and that at heart she was just as blase and took just as many chances as the modern girl with bobbed hair and never-tiring vivacity.

"Inwardly the girl of twenty years ago loved all the things our modern girl does. She took just as many chances, but she was less open about it and consequently 'got by,' as we would say today," declared Mrs. Parrish in an interview here, where she was attending the Southern Conference of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Parrish, who is a mother, said she could not agree with the popular version regarding the present generation.

"But our bobbed hair, never-tiring vivacious girl of today will be the mother of tomorrow and she will make a good one. I cannot believe otherwise.

"I have all confidence in our happy-go-lucky, frank and above-board girl of today," continued Mrs. Parrish. "She has so many virtues that typify the real American girl."

CON CON BEEN IN SESSION 133 DAYS

EXPECT TO FINISH NEW CODE BY JANUARY 1.

5 1-2 MONTHS $250,000

But if Constitution Is Adopted Twice That Much Will Be Saved Mo. Taxpayers.

News of the Constitution Convention written by J. S. Hubbard, Executive Secretary Missouri Press Association.

Jefferson City, Nov. 13.—Hope is expressed by the president of the convention that the work can be completed by the first of the year if the members attend the sessions regularly. He believes that the work on the reports is two-thirds completed and that there are not the distractions to take the minds of the members away from the work in hand that there have been during the campaign and the sessions of court.

The one hundred and thirty-third day of the convention was reached with Saturday's session, though few thought at the time of its convening that more than ninety days would be necessary to complete the entire work. Up to Nov. 1 the entire cost was approximately $250,000, since the convention was called to order on May 15. This may seem to be a large sum, but as was pointed out by one of the members recently, if it costs twice that amount it will represent only 14 cents per capita to the taxpayers of Missouri. It has been repeatedly stated that several measures being considered, if written into the constitution and adopted by the people, will result in an annual saving of much more than the entire cost of the convention.

However, many members of the convention feel that the work must be pushed forward much faster than it has been in the last few weeks if the desired adjournment is to be reached by New Year's. In an informal consideration by the members of the convention present after the election really the full membership will be here.

Some interesting facts are brought out in a perusal of the personnel of the Constitution Convention delegates, prepared for use in the next Missouri Manual to be issued from the office of the secretary of state. While it is generally known that the convention is a bi-partisan body with practically the same number of democrats as republicans, an analysis of this statement will be interesting as will be several other facts. The republicans have 43 of the 83 delegates accredited to them, but two of these are labor representatives who may not always be classed as allied with either party.

It is interesting to know that 52 of the whole number, or 62½ per cent, are native born Missourians and that 96 per cent are from the Mississippi Valley. Only three came from outside that territory and only one is foreign born, Andrew Scully of St. Louis coming from Ireland with his parents when three years old. The record by states is as follows: Missouri, 52; Ohio, 7; Indiana, 5; Kansas, 4; Kentucky, 4; Illinois, 4; Tennessee, 2; Iowa, Colorado, Pennsylvania and New York, each one, and Ireland, 1.

Members who have held public office in the state or nation include two lieutenant governors, one cabinet officer, four congressmen, fourteen assemblymen, four state senators, eight circuit judges, and a few minor and local officers. A majority have never before held public office. There are 57 lawyers, 4 editors and publishers, 7 bankers and financiers, 2 farmers, 5 teachers and educators, 2 insurance men, one each locomotive engineer, brewer, real estate dealer, adjuster, advertiser and solicitor, doctor and minister. No manufacturers are included in the list.

The average age of the members is 53 years, the oldest being 82 and the youngest 31. There are four women delegates and one colored representative.

All existing leaves of absence of the convention delegates, by vote of the members, have been revoked after this week.

Notice was sent out to members absent Friday that their presence was necessary at once so that the work of the convention could proceed.

Reports of the Committees on Corporations and Initiative and Referendum are still to be referred to the Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement the first of the week, but they will probably take but little more time.

The uncompleted report of the Committee on Judiciary is expected to hold the boards in the committee of the whole for at least a part of the coming week. The chairman will be back to take charge of the report and it will be one of the important matters first to be considered.

Armistice Day was observed Saturday under the auspices of the American Legion and members of the convention took part in the program with addresses.

A question has arisen as to what the convention can do if it does not complete its work by the first of the year. The general assembly will need all the room in the capitol and the members and employes will fill the hotels and boarding houses. A reading of the article relating to the calling of the convention shows that "the delegates elected shall be convened by proclamation of the governor within six months after their election at the seat of government." It does not state specifically that the delegates shall remain in session "at the seat of government" and the members are inclined to think that they can remove the convention to some other city, that possesses the necessary accommodations, to complete their work. This has been talked informally and there may be no occasion to consider it seriously. Another alternative is to take a recess from the Christmas holidays until next spring after the general assembly has completed its work. It is felt by many that this would not be a satisfactory way of handling the matter since there would undoubtedly be many vacancies to fill and the work already considered would have to be gone all over again to acquaint the new members with what had been done before they could vote understandingly on the constitution.

MEMORY OF CLAY BURNS OBSERVED AT BARNARD SATURDAY

From Barnard Bulletin.

Just one year ago Saturday, on Armistice Day, occurred the fatal accident which deprived Barnard of one of her most useful and beloved sitizens, Clay D. Burns. While attempting to erect our country's flag on the steel flagpole in honor of the heroes of the World War, the pole came in contact with a high voltage wire and the shock caused his death. The boys helping him, Fred Stalling, Paul Stalling and Homer Winemiller, were also badly shocked or burned.

In order to reverence his memory, the stores of the town closed from 8:00 a. m. to 10:00 a. m. Saturday morning, during which time no business of any kind was done in town. The people from the country were asked to observe these hours.

ARRANGES TO HANDLE WAR CERTIFICATES

Suggests Changing Stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates—Can Be Done This Month.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Arrangements for handling $625,000,000 of war savings certificates of 1918, which mature January 1, were announced by Secretary Mellon, who said they were in the hands of millions of holders.

"For their convenience," the statemen said, "the treasury is offering special facilities for cash redemption or exchange into treasury savings certificates of the series of 1923, including provision of presentation before January 1, 1923."

The proposed exchange is part of the treasury's program for funding the short dated debt, of which about $3,000,000,000 remains to be funded by the end of the present fiscal year.

"Beginning November 15, 1922," Mr. Mellon explained, "holders of 1918 war savings certificates can exchange them at maturity value for treasury savings certificates dated January 1, 1923, and at the same time can get advance payment of any cash difference by taking the largest amount of treasury certificates that their war savings certificates taken at maturity value will cover. Exchanges after January 15, 1922, with any necessary cash adjustments, will be made as of the date of exchange. Holders will not be able to make cash redemption of their certificates before maturity, but beginning November 15, 1922, may present them in advance for redemption as of January 1, 1923, and in that event will receive, on or about January 1, 1923, checks payable to their order covering the redemption value.

"Registered war savings certificates must be presented to the post office where registered, but unregistered certificates will be received for redemption or exchange at any money order post office or any federal reserve bank or branch or the treasury of Washington."

W. T. KEY DIED AT NOON TODAY AT HIS HOME

Following An Illness Since Last August—No Arrangements for the Funeral.

William T. Key, 69 years old, a resident of Nodaway County for more than fifty years, died at 12 o'clock today at his home, 602 West Halsey street, following an illness since the tenth of last August. At that time Mr. Key suffered an attack of pneumonia and for several weeks his condition was serious. Three weeks ago Saturday he was removed to his home from St. Francis hospital, where he had undergone an operation for lung trouble. On October 25 the left lung became affected and since that time his condition has been critical.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Mr. Key was born June 12, 1853, in Platte County, and had been a resident of Missouri his entire life. He located on a farm, ten miles south of Maryville near the Salem church, between 1860 and 1879. He retired from farming eight years ago when he moved to Maryville. On October 3, 1875, he was married to Miss Mary C. Cliser of Barnard, who, with three daughters, survives. Key of St. Joseph, three sisters, Miss Annie Key of Maryville, Mrs. Lou Hubbard and Mrs. F. M. Williams of Barnard, and a half-brother, Albert E. Bell of Maryville.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The Red Cross is spending TEN MILLION DOLLARS a year to help the disabled ex-service man and his family.

Annual Roll Call
November 11—Dec. 1.

A CREAM AND EGG GRADING DEMONSTRATION

V. T. Williams of the State Board to Hold Demonstrations in Nodaway County.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 13—A cream and egg grading demonstration will be given by V. T. Williams, a field representative of the Missouri State Marketing bureau at Wilcox Nov. 13, Elmo Nov. 14, Burlington Junction Nov. 15, and Skidmore Nov. 16, in cooperation with all cream and egg buyers. The demonstrations will be given all day long.

Producers of cream and eggs are requested to bring their products to town on the dates assigned. The Marketing Bureau representative will grade each producer's cream and eggs and discuss with him the importance and necessity of raising the quality thereof.

Over four hundred cream and egg grading demonstrations have been conducted by the State Marketing Bureau since July 1. These demonstrations have extended into approximately one hundred counties. These two programs of practical marketing services have reached in a direct way approximately 25,000 cream and egg producers. Including the cooperation of the Missouri Press, it is estimated that fully 200,000 Missouri cream and egg producers have been brought in contact with these great campaigns for the betterment of the dairy and poultry marketing industries of this State.

"Make Missouri Cream and Eggs better—It Will Pay," is the slogan of Missouri State Marketing Bureau. Already practically all of the largest creameries operating in Missouri have agreed to recognize a differential of a minimum of 3 cents per pound between No. 1 and No. 2 cream. Egg producers are urged to improve the quality of that product, also, and take steps to have it marketed on a graded basis.

Much of the Missouri cream that now falls into the No. 2 grade could be marketed as No. 1 cream if the producers will take better care of it. The great dairy states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and New York, and others, have developed the art of butter making on a purely scientific basis. The industry in Missouri must be developed on a similar basis or suffer a decrease in its profitableness to the producer. Low grade butterfat makes low grade butter. With a premium of at least 3 cents more per pound offered for No. 1 cream than No. 2 ceram, there should be an incentive for producers to improve the quality of their cream so as to receive the additional profit.

Although the Federal Census of 1920 shows only a slight increase over 1909 of dairy products produced in Missouri, it shows the total value of dairy products produced in Missouri for the year 1919 to be approximately $35,000,000. This represents an increase in value over 1909 of 154 percent. The receipts from the sale of dairy products, however, increased 188 percent during the same ten year period.

Missouri eggs now complete on the markets with eggs from such states as California, New Jersey, Iowa, and others, where the industry is specialized to a high degree. Competition, therefore, is keen; much of the annual $5,000,000 loss on Missouri eggs is within the control of the producer; still greater amounts in profit can be realized by the producers if the general quality of eggs marketed through the hot summer months is raised.

In 1909 Missouri was first in egg production but second in values of eggs produced. In 1919 Missouri was second in production, with 117,203,569 dozens, Iowa ranking first in production with 120,697,319 dozens. But in value of eggs produced Missouri fell to third place in 1919 ranking beneath both Iowa and Illinois. In 1919 Iowa received 58.1 cents per dozen; Illinois, 63 cents per dozen; Missouri, 56.5 cents per dozen.

ALBANY PAPER PRAISES MARYVILLE DE MOLAY'S

Work of Maryville Boys in Installing Albany Chapter Is Highly Complimented.

The Albany, (Mo.) Capital, in its last issue complimented the members of the degree teams of the local De Molay Chapter on their work in instituting the Albany Chapter last Monday. Excerpts from the article follow:

Lodge work has been put on in most excellent manner in Albany on many occasions, but never has a more impressive initiation taken place than the one staged in such a splendid manner by that bright bunch of Maryville young men Monday night.

To start with, the degree of the De-Molay pictures a historic scene that is of itself a real lesson to old and young; and it could not have been more perfectly portrayed than it was under the interpretation of the degree team from Maryville. Every member handled his part like a veteran, and their work thrilled and impressed every old lodge worker in the big hall, and could not help but leave a lasting impression upon the minds of the boys entering the local chapter as charter members.

The live citizens of Maryville certainly are to be congratulated upon the fact that they have, just entering the real work of that community, so fine a lot of bright, talented young men as those who have been grouped into the membership of their DeMolay chapter; and also we here in Albany should feel justly proud of the splendid lot of boys who have taken charter membership with the chapter here. It is an organization with high ideals, teaching patriotism, clean living, true precepts of home and duty to parents and friends, and it should have much influence in shaping the lives aright of its members.
